

HOME HAPPENINGS

Leaves are beginning to fall.

Wheat in the ground never looked better at this season of the year.

The Ohio State Telephone Co. is extending its lines to Kirk and Oak streets.

A local man is making plans to open a moving picture show in the village.

A son was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Heber Donaldson of this township.

Before starting furnace fires in the fall it is well to carefully examine smoke pipes and chimneys.

There is now no market for peaches and many bushels of fruit in this county will rot on the trees.

Last Saturday evening Walter Scott pleasantly entertained a hay-load of friends from Youngstown.

The mushroom crop is short this year. The edible can be found in few fields where it usually grows in abundance.

On a pear tree in a West Main street orchard may be seen ripening fruit, new leaves starting and opening blossoms.

Coy Brothers are vigorously prosecuting the work of widening and resurfacing the road on the west side of North Broad street.

Recent frosts have somewhat damaged tender vegetation but most gardens continue to yield corn, beans, tomatoes and other vegetables.

A large cement block business office is being erected by the Altino Culture Co. on the north side of the big greenhouses and fronting on Oak street.

A Columbus artist who is redecorating the interior of the Presbyterian church has not yet completed work and it will be necessary to hold church services next Sunday in college chapel.

There is no material change in the condition of little Robert Delfs, who has been unconscious since he met with an automobile accident August 19. Hopes are still entertained, however, that he will recover.

C. W. Harroff on Thursday exhibited a twig from a Baldwin apple tree not much thicker than a lead pencil on which were eleven good-sized apples which grew so close together that the fruit appeared much like a huge bunch of grapes.

Premiums awarded county schools and individual pupils at the recent county fair in Canfield will be paid by County Superintendent of Schools Jerome Hull, that part of the premium list having been turned over to him by treasurer W. J. Dickson.

In the last Dispatch mention was made of Mrs. John Clark having been given a birthday party. The name should have been Mrs. John Platt, who resides on East Main street, and the twist in name was due to failure to get the correct name by telephone.

Albert Huxsaw, who recently sold his ice cream parlor and catering business to Roy Metzler, will have a public sale of personal property October 16 and a few days later will leave with his family for San Jose, Cal., where he expects to permanently locate.

Perry Houser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Houser, who live near Tippecanoe shaft, in Boardman township, is ill with diphtheria and the home is under quarantine. There are several children in the family but every effort is being made to prevent further spread of the disease.

E. O. Kiley, who has been the local representative of the Ohio Telephone Co. for nearly a year, has decided to locate in Florida where he owns considerable real estate, believing it will be to his financial advantage to be on the ground looking after its cultivation. Mr. Kiley's successor has not yet been named.

Last Sunday was an ideal autumn day and roads leading into the township were lined with automobiles, the occupants enjoying an outing such as can be had in no other way. Old Dobbin is all right, but he is not in it when it comes to covering a hundred miles between a late dinner and an early supper. And he is not now much in evidence on long drives for pleasure or otherwise.

Charles Chidester left a stalk of corn at the Citizens' cooperative Co. store last Saturday evening that must have been more than 16 feet long. The ear of corn on the stalk, when standing, must have been fully two feet higher than the ordinary man could reach. Talk about having to ride through Kansas corn field on horseback to pluck off the ears! What is the matter with Ohio?

At the coming November election Canfield village and township will vote on the question of increasing the tax levy sufficiently to provide a heating plant for the normal building and making repairs that are imperative. The Dispatch believes the proposition will receive a favorable vote for it there is one thing more than another the people of this community are interested in it is the schools.

A band of gypsies occupying nearly a dozen gaily-painted wagons came here from Youngstown about noon Monday and the women of the outfit lost no time chasing about town in search of victims who wanted their fortunes told. While they pestered a lot of folks little coin was passed their way for what they had to offer. Their game is so ancient that even the most verdant refuse to fall for it.

An enthusiastic meeting of temperance people was held Wednesday night in the M. E. Church to organize for the state-wide prohibition campaign. Attorneys Robinson and Church of Youngstown, county organizers, were present and offered many valuable suggestions for prosecuting the important work to be done. Various committees were appointed for the village while those for the township will be named later.

Council met Monday night. The pay ordinance was passed under suspension of the rules. Solicitor Zieger rendered an opinion on the vote by council on the ordinance covering the purchase of fire department headquarters, declared carried by Mayor Jones, holding that the legal number of yeas votes had not been cast, and a resolution was adopted thanking A. Huxsaw, member of council who is soon to locate in California, for his earnest, untiring work as a member of the body.

ELLSWORTH

Street Commissioner H. L. Sennedeker and assistants are using the big scraper on the dirt roads about town, filling holes and making them smooth for winter travel.

Plans are being made to celebrate Halloween Monday evening, Nov. 1, Dublin grange, the Rebekah lodge and the Volunteer Fire Department participating in the festivities. Further announcement will be made next week.

The title of the Ewing farm south of the village, sold some months since to the county for an experiment farm, has been cleared through court proceedings and the deed will shortly pass from Judge J. Calvin Ewing to the county commissioners.

Prof. G. L. Stackhouse, principal of the joint high school, and Prof. J. C. Skaggs have arranged for a lecture course for numbers for the coming season. The entertainments and lectures are Theobaldi & Co., Nov. 18, Euclid B. Rogers, Dec. 7, C. L. Burgerderfer, Jan. 17, the Dietrichs in February and Fisher Ship Co. in April. Further announcement of the course will be made later.

COW TEST ASSOCIATION MEETING

There will be a meeting in Town Hall, Canfield, Thursday evening, Oct. 14th, at 8 o'clock, eastern time, for the purpose of organizing a cow test association in the community. Speakers from outside of the county will be present to tell of the benefits of such an association and to assist in the organization plans. Every one interested in better cows should plan to attend this meeting. Admission will be free.

The main object of the cow test association is to weed out the "boarder cows" or those which do not pay for their feed. Twenty-six herds will constitute an association, one for each working day in the month. An official tester will be employed by the association whose duty it will be to spend one day each month with each member, weigh the milk both night and morning, weigh the feed given to cow, compute the cost for the month, test the milk for butter fat and in addition he will offer suggestions in regard to feeding.

The government, through the Department of Agriculture, will furnish all record blanks for each individual cow in the herd. Each member of the association agrees to pay to the treasurer of the association $15.00 per cow per year, with a minimum of ten cows in the herd. For example, if a member has on test eight cows, he will pay the minimum fee. If he has more than ten cows, he pays at rate of $1.50 per cow. Come to the meeting and hear what the cow test association has done for others. The meeting will be in charge of County Agent D. W. Galehouse.

PUBLIC SALES

On Friday, Oct. 15, commencing at 10 a. m., R. W. Dickson, administrator of the estate of Susan E. Broad-sword, will sell at her late residence in Ellsworth, O., 32 ewes, 10 lambs, 2 ponies, lot of farm implements and household goods. At the same time and place 15 acres of land will be offered for sale. S. B. Parshall, auctioneer.

On the C. W. Eckis farm, 3 1/2 miles west of North Jackson, Thursday, Oct. 14, at 10 a. m., Henderson and Eckis will sell horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, farm implements, household goods, etc.

On Wednesday, Oct. 13, at 1 p. m., eastern, E. O. Kiley will sell at his residence in Canfield, as he will remove to Florida, all his household goods, most of which are new and all in excellent condition. S. B. Parshall, auctioneer.

On Saturday, Oct. 16, at 12 m., central time, A. Huxsaw will sell at his residence in Canfield household goods, horses, vehicles, Ford roadster, and many other articles. He will also offer his real estate for sale. S. B. Parshall, auctioneer.

A STATEMENT

For the purpose of correcting an erroneous report which has been circulated about Canfield, I wish to state that I have received proof and am satisfied that Edwin J. Zieger was not the person who ran into and upset my machine on the Canfield and Cornersburg road on the morning of the 18th of September, 1915.

G. I. CRUM.

THREE HUNDRED PROPOSALS.

"Cupid," of Michigan, Believed in Advertising Far and Wide.

"I received more than 300 proposals of marriage in my mail this morning," remarked a sedate and elderly gentleman to his wife, whom he was entertaining at luncheon in a restaurant. The white-haired old lady gasped. "Don't be alarmed, my dear," her husband went on. "It was only a thick little pink pamphlet from a town in Michigan. It was sent by a man who calls himself the 'Cupid' of that State. It contained the descriptions of innumerable women who want to marry. I don't know why it was sent to me—probably just an arrow shot in the air. Judging from the catalogue of aspirants for my hand the marriage market is over-stocked with widows just now. The oldest I noticed was 75, and the youngest 17. Delicate was for women to propose, eh?"

ELLSWORTH

A most happy occasion in Ellsworth October 4 was the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, respected residents of the village. Friends and neighbors to the number of thirty or more gathered around a sumptuous dinner. Mr. Reed gave over three years of his early life to the service of his country in a Maryland regiment, so the veterans still remaining in Ellsworth, with their wives, and three widows of soldiers, felt themselves honored in being invited to participate in celebrating the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Reed. The life of the couple are still able to enjoy the good things of life, whose faces bear witness to years of happiness and the peace that belongs to well spent lives. We trust many more years may be added to them. A perfect day added to the celebration of all present, who with heartiest of congratulations and good wishes took their leave to make way for younger friends to pay their respects in the evening. A poem composed for the occasion by a member of the family was read after dinner and very appropriate remarks were made by the Rev. Dr. Vennin of Youngstown.

Fifty years ago today, a fair and happy bride stood beside her husband, her joy and her pride; While he with tender gaze, his arms around the one he chose as helpmeet for life-time. Happy days and weeks flew by—Months passed one by one Until their first-born, a boy, William, came to be their pride and joy.

But they could not keep him—nay, For only thirteen months was he allowed to stay. The Lord giveth and He taketh away. Who can tell of a mother's fond pride When one August day "George" lay by her side?

The father was proud of his noble son And shouldered responsibilities, one by one.

Susie next, a daughter fair, With dark brown eyes and sunny hair, Came to gladden this house of joy, And share its blessings with the boy. Two years later, one May morn, "Edmy" a dark eyed child was born. Luther came next with eyes of blue—Quiet, loving, kind and true.

Years have passed since those busy days, When Father and Mother with loving ways Toiled and saved, thro' sorrows and joys To rightly rear their girls and boys. Has their life been a failure, their work been vain? Have the children they reared caused them pain?

Tho' miles apart, wherever they may roam, These words are ever dearest, father, mother, home.

So we gather today, all except dear Sue, Who's too far away to join us all, anew; To thank God for His blessings and, To be an unbroken family, on yon bright shore.

BERLIN CENTER

Oct. 6—Jack Frost appeared too soon for some corn cutters. To correct a mistake in last week's correspondence, will say that the late Mrs. Beckman's maiden name was Porter instead of Weasner.

Miss Carol Hawkins is attending high school in Pittsburgh. Miss Vorne Eckis attends high school in Alliance.

Mr. Laughtman, the blacksmith, has moved into Chas. Hartzell's residence near town.

Willie Hoyle contemplates moving back to Leetonia.

Mrs. Parshall of Atwater is visiting Mrs. Joshua Heiser.

Mrs. Hart Wilson is visiting her mother, Mrs. Smith.

Miss Luella King has moved into the home of Mrs. Tilden Harmon.

Elgie Kime occupies a part of widow Smith's residence.

Mrs. Freeman Cline has returned from a visit with her son in Niles.

Elizabeth Hughes W. C. T. U. of Berlin Center met in regular session Oct. 1 at the home of Mrs. H. M. Gunder. Devotionals were conducted by Mesdames Heiser and Hawkins.

The corresponding secretary read a letter of appreciation from the Union Temple of Chicago thanking the Union for money sent for the Open Door Fund. There are 1820 saloons in Chicago or as many saloons in Chicago as are to be found south of the Mason-Dixon line. Mrs. Miller's name was added to the soliciting committee for new members. Social committee, Mrs. James Heiser and Mrs. Gunder. Committees were also appointed and the township divided into sections to solicit for the charitable institutions at Youngstown. Let us not forget our own needy ones at this time of year, even in our own county. Anything that can be used in a home will be accepted. Those donating canned fruit, jars will be given in return for their jars. Contests—The Elizabeth Hughes union will give $1 for the best essay of not less than 300 words by a high school student in Berlin Center on the subject, "Why do we want Ohio Dry?" Facts to be gathered from the "American Issue," during its publication of October. One dollar will be given for the best essay written by a student of 7th and 8th grades, conditions same as above. All papers must be filed with Mrs. J. E. Heiser before Nov. 3. There are about 30 copies of the American Issue circulated in this community so that anyone may borrow for the asking from any subscriber. Mrs. Gunder gave a splendid report of the state convention she attended in Dayton. The meeting adjourned with voting of the Lord's Prayer. The next meeting will be held in two weeks, Oct. 15.

LOCUST GROVE

The Locust Grove Baptist church will observe its quarterly communion service next Sunday morning. At the close of the service the pastor has called for a business session to dispose of the necessary grading to be done to conform to the improved road in front of the church. All members are urged to be present.

CIDER MAKING.

The Eberhart elder mill on the Canfield-Austintown road, one mile south of Austintown, is in operation by Eberhart Brothers and is running every day during the season except Saturday, making cider and apple butter. The public patronage is solicited. 28-a

PRESIDENT WILL MARRY WIDOW

Mrs. Norman Galt of Washington to Be Next First Lady of the Land.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE AT FAMILY DINNER

Bride-elect, Described as Strikingly Pretty, Slightly Below Medium Height and Very Graceful; Successful Business Woman.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The engagement of Mrs. Norman Galt of Washington to President Woodrow Wilson was announced at the White House Wednesday night. No date was set for the wedding, but it will probably occur early in December in the executive mansion.

Widow of Business Man. Mrs. Galt, who will be the next first lady of the land, is the widow of a business man of Washington, Norman Galt, a partner in a prominent jewelry firm, who died eight years ago. She has resided here since her marriage. Mrs. Galt was Miss Edith Bolling and was born in Wytheville, Va. Her father was the Hon. William H. Bolling, a well-known lawyer of that section of Virginia. Her family is distinguished in Virginia and Mrs. Galt is related to many of the best families of the Old Dominion.

The president met his fiancée through his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, and his cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, who is a member of the White House. Mrs. Galt is one of Miss Bones' most intimate friends and spent a month at the summer White House at Cornish as the guest of Miss Bones and Miss Wilson. It is understood that Mrs. Galt and the president have intellectual tastes in common and the president has been a frequent dinner guest at the Galt household during the season which has just passed.

Announcement Made at Dinner.

An informal dinner party was given at the White House Wednesday night, which Mrs. Galt attended, to celebrate the announcement of the engagement. The other guests were Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. McAdoo, the Misses Smith, the president's cousins from New Orleans; Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and Col. H. Brown, another cousin from Atlanta. It is understood that the announcement was made because of the impending departure of Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo to the Pacific coast, where the secretary will conduct an inspection tour of public buildings.

Fourteen months ago to a day the president's first wife, who was Miss Ellen Axson, died in the White House. For many months the president maintained the strictest mourning. Late last spring it was observed that the charming friend of Miss Bones, his favorite cousin, was a frequent guest not only at the White House, but in the presidential box at the baseball games. Rumors of an existing engagement between the president and Mrs. Galt were then circulated. These rumors were heightened when it was learned that Mrs. Galt was a house guest at Cornish, and that the president paid her marked attention. It is understood now, however, that the romance between the president and his fiancée did not begin to ripen until the Cornish visit.

Have Similar Tastes.

In speaking of her friendship for the president and his family to intimate friends, Mrs. Galt is said to have declared that the fact that all were southerners and had similar tastes in books and music was responsible for the friendship. The news of her engagement comes as a great surprise to many of her friends because she had worn mourning for her husband for eight years and was supposed to be still unreconciled to his loss.

Mrs. Galt's resemblance to the late Mrs. Wilson has frequently excited comment. She is a strikingly pretty woman in her late 30's, slightly below medium height and has a graceful, rather plump figure. Her hair is brown and her eyes are gray-blue. Her prettiest feature is her mouth, which is curved and expressive.

Children Cause 20 Fires.

Columbus, Oct. 7.—Matches in the hands of children caused as many fires in Ohio during August as lightning. Each started 20 fires. State Fire Marshal Bert Buckley, in a bulletin issued Wednesday, appeals to mothers to keep the matchbox hidden and urges farmers to use lightning rods. "Safety first" in the home and the increased efficiency of firefighters have decreased the number of fires, Buckley says.

Accused of Riffing Mails.

Toledo, O., Oct. 7.—George Dankins was arrested at Union station Wednesday by Deputy United States Marshal, Birkenbauer. He is charged with rifling the mails. He is employed by the Lake Shore railroad and assists the mail clerks in handling parcel post packages. The special charge is that he opened a basket of peaches and took a number out. He denies taking the fruit.

Withdraws Resignation.

Panama, Oct. 7.—Gen. George W. Goethals, who arrived here on the steamer Cristobal, has cabled to Washington withdrawing his resignation which was to take effect on Nov. 1. His action is due to the slides which have recently occurred on the job until the canal is in good shape.

Chronic Constipation.

"About two years ago when I began using Chamberlain's Tablets I had been suffering for some time with stomach trouble and chronic constipation. My condition improved rapidly through the use of these tablets. Since taking four or five bottles of them my health has been fine," writes Mrs. John Newton, Irving, N. Y. Wealth

Many definitions of wealth have been attempted, but the best one we have ever seen is that one's wealth consists of the difference between his income and his wants. We ask your careful consideration of this definition. It will mean much to the one who really comprehends it.

PERVERSITY

I told her she had aster eyes, And lips as crimson as the maple; She looked at me in grave surprise, Remark'd my similes were staple. I bade her know her foot was light As in the fawn's, that woodland roamer;

She stated, though I might be right, The saying was as old as Homer. I spoke about her smumch lips, And of her white throat like a lily, Then felt a sudden heart-eclipse, For she averred that I was silly. But when I whispered that her voice From trouble was a sweet entrancer And made the soul of me rejoice She didn't even deign to answer.

I sigh despaired, I will admit; I was downcast, dejected—very. For I'd exhausted all my wit, And almost my vocabulary. But when I clasped her, scorning fear, Grown through exasperation bolder, She murmured, "You are just a dear!" And put her head upon my shoulder.

—Judge.
